NEARLY A SCORE OF MEN PERISH

Explosion Kills Eighteen Miners at Amsterdam, O.

REGARDED AS MIRACULOUS

Seven Bruised and Burned Men Rescued Alive From the Shaft—Interior of the Mine Wrecked and All Ventilation Shut Off—Cause of the Disaster Not Yet Ascertained by Inspectors.

Stuebenville, O., April 23.—The lives of eighteen miners were snuffed out in an explosion in the Youghiogheny and Ohio Coal company's mine at Amsterdam.

Seven men, bruised and burned, were rescued from the mine, and their escape from death is regarded as miraculous. The interior of the mine was wrecked and all ventilation shut off. The cause has not been determined by the state mine inspectors and mining experts, who are conducting the search of the wrecked workings for the bodies of twelve victims who have not yet been located.

The mine had been inspected but two days before the explosion by Deputy Inspector Thomas Morrison. He was still at the hotel in the village when the explosion occurred. From the condition of the interior it is said the explosion, in point of force, was the greatest ever recorded in Ohio.

Fled From the Scene.

The earth within a radius of several miles was rocked by a terrific explosion. People thought an earthquake had occurred. A train on the Lake Erie, Alliance and Wheeling railroad was passing the mine, and every window in the train was shattered.

The trainmen stopped the train and, learning where the explosion occurred, fled from it as a car of dynamite was attached to the rear of the train.

Two men, brothers, were found locked in each other's arms. This gives the rescuers the belief that the men were not killed instantly, but that they were suffocated by the after damp.

The fans were put into operation and fresh air was forced into the mine to aid the rescuers in their work. Three shifts of these are working two hours at a time.

Coroner Foster of Jefferson county is on the scene and if all the bodies are recovered soon one big funeral will be held.

KILLS HIS YOUNG STEPSON

Minnesota Farmer Then Ends His Own Life.

Wadena, Minn., April 23.—An innocent and defenseless boy of twelve years was murdered by Louis Johnson, a farmer living in the town of Green Valley, Becker county. The lad was a stepson of Johnson and was shot dead with a rifle.

After committing the foul deed, Johnson turned his gun upon himself and fired a shot which ended his own life.

The murder and suicide occurred in some woods near the home of the Johnsons. Particulars of the affair are hard to obtain, as the place is a dozen miles from any railroad. Johnson was a farmer and about forty-five years of age.

Johnson had a daughter by his first wife and fears that she would be dispossessed of his property. In the event of his death and that the stepson would inherit it, are supposed to have led to the tragedy. The first husband of Mrs. Johnson, a man by the name of Hill, also died a suicide in the same neighborhood about eight years ago.

When she missed her husband and son, Mrs. Johnson searched for them alone for several hours. Not finding them, she aroused the neighbors and a thorough search ended in the discovery of the bodies.

Connecticut Woman Elected.

Washington, April 23.—In the second election, made necessary to complete the list of officers of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, at their nineteenth Continental congress here, Mrs. Sarah T. Kinney of Connecticut was chosen honorary vice president, defeating Mrs. Charles H. Deere of Illinois by a majority of fifty votes.

Aviator Lands in Marsh.

Newburyport, Mass., April 23.—Forgetting to shut the power off as he started to make a turn Greeley S. Curtis of New York, while making a flight in the new Herring-Burgess biplane, lost control and plunged to the ground with the big machine from a height of about twenty feet. The aviator landed in soft marsh land and was injured.

His View of Women.

Archbishop Whately said, with diplomat but humorous discourtesy, "Women never reason, or if they do they either draw correct inferences from wrong premises or wrong inferences from correct premises, and they always poke the fire from the top."

EMIL SEIDEL.

Mayor of Milwaukee Would Abolish Slums.

WOULD ABOLISH THE SLUMS

Milwaukee's Mayor Favors Movement to That End.

Milwaukee, April 23.—Mayor Seidel has come out strongly for the abolition of the slums and declared he would support any movement for the carrying out of the plans of the Central Council of Philanthropies for the tearing down of tuberculosis infested tenements and houses and the general purification of the city.

Mayor Seidel declared he would not issue permits for Saturday night dances in places where the dance halls are connected with saloons and that he would try to arrange for free public Saturday dances with municipally provided music in the schoolhouses.

Mr. Seidel announced he would pay a visit to Chicago and confer with Dr. Evans, health commissioner of that city, to secure advice on the engaging of a good man for health commissioner.

Outside of this programme for the carrying out of platform pledges Victor Berger announced the central committee was so progressing in its work of organizing the state that there would be 100,000 votes polled by that ticket the coming fall.

HONOR THE MEMORY OF MARK TWAIN

Neighbors Mourn Loss of the Famous Humorist.

Redding, Conn., April 23.—This village is in mourning for its benefactor, Mark Twain, who had endeared himself by his kindly good nature and generosity, and when the body is taken to the station to be placed on the train for New York, where funeral services will be held in the Brick church, business will be suspended, and the villagers and farmers from the surrounding hills will assemble and pay their last tributes to the dead.

All day long the villagers passed by the house, and parties from neighboring cities drove up the river road and, stopping, looked over the low lands to Stormfield on the hill. There has not been such a gathering in the village since Mr. Clemens gave his benefit for the library, to which he recently gave money for the building.

The body was prepared for burial, and, dressed in the white flannel which he so constantly wore in the later years of his life, will be placed in a plain mahogany casket.

Many messages of comfort were received by Mrs. Ossip Gabrilovitch, Mark Twain's only living daughter. Among them were telegrams from President Taft and former President Roosevelt. A message was also received from the authorities at Hannibal, Mo., asking that Mr. Clemens' body be brought there for burial, to which Mrs. Gabrilovitch in reply said that as the family burial ground was in Elmira, N. Y., it was thought best that the body be taken there.

New York, April 23.—Owing to the royalties he received on his books, Mr. Clemens died wealthy, and an estimate made by a member of Harper & Bros., his publishers for the past ten years, places his fortune at more than $1,000,000.

Killed by Logging Train.

Couderay, Wis., April 23.—Andrew Rasmussen, forty-five years old, was found dead on the railroad track near Winter, Wis. His head was split open, and it is supposed that while on his way to camp intoxicated he fell, went to sleep on the track and was struck by a logging train. He was killed instantly.

IN HONOR OF ROOSEVELTS

President Fallieres Gives Dinner at Elysee Palace.

ASSEMBLAGE A NOTABLE ONE

Band of Republican Guards Gives a Musical Programme—Chief Executive of France Proposes a Toast to the Great American Traveler—Colonel Roosevelt Replies With a Brief Address.

Paris, April 23.—President and Mme. Fallieres gave a dinner of 104 covers at the Elysee palace in honor of Theodore Roosevelt. The palace was brilliantly illuminated and the Republican guard lined the stairways. The assemblage was a notable one.

President Fallieres took out Mrs. Roosevelt, who looked charming in a blue brocade gown, embroidered with gold and crystal ornaments, while Roosevelt escorted Mme. Fallieres. Miss Ethel Roosevelt, who wore a gown of pink satin, was escorted by M. Jusserand, the French ambassador to the United States.

Among the other distinguished guests were Ambassador and Mrs. Bacon, former President and Mme. Loubet, Premier Briand, Foreign Minister and Mme. Pinchon and other members of the cabinet and their wives.

During the dinner, which was served in the gorgeous Salle des Fetes, which is hung in priceless Gobelin, the band of the Republican guards gave a musical programme.

In proposing Colonel Roosevelt's health President Fallieres said:

Toast to Theodore Roosevelt.

"I cannot allow the dinner to terminate without seizing the occasion to offer a toast to Theodore Roosevelt—an illustrious man who is at the same time a great citizen, a great friend of France, and a great friend of peace. I lift my glass also in honor of Mrs. Roosevelt, to whom goes out the homage of our respectful sympathy. I congratulate myself at being able to tell our guests how happy we are to receive and fete them."

Colonel Roosevelt replied in French, saying he was profoundly touched by the words of President Fallieres.

"Mrs. Roosevelt and I," the American said, "never will forget the welcome we have received in France, especially from you, Mr. President."

"Made to understand and love each other, our two countries have been friends from the beginning, and no doubt always will remain friends. Every civilized man who comes to France learns something, because France is the cradle of modern civilization. Even today I have learned much, and one thing in particular which will appear in my lecture."

"I raise my glass in honor of the president of the republic and Mme. Fallieres, whose grateful guests we are."

A reception followed the dinner, to which many other notables of the French literary and scientific worlds and a number of prominent persons of the American colony, including William K. Vanderbilt, were invited to meet Colonel Roosevelt.

TAFT TO REVERSE POLICY

Willing to Sign Measure That Roosevelt Vetoed.

Washington, April 23.—With assurances from President Taft that he would reverse the Roosevelt conservation policy in so far as it relates to compensation for the use of water power on non-navigable streams certain senators are going to push once more the bill which Roosevelt vetoed granting to a Missouri corporation a power site on the James river in that state without exacting any rental or other return to the government.

The senate committee on public lands ordered a favorable report on a bill which is identical with the bill which Roosevelt returned to congress with a veto in which he announced the extreme limit of his conservation policy. The grounds on which the veto was based were that the rights of the people and the government were not sufficiently protected in the bill, the government was not given the right to supervise the operations of the corporation in the generation and distribution of power and the charges to be made for power as it should have been and that the bill contained no provision for compensation to the government for the valuable privilege granted the power corporation.

Pat Crowe Robbed.

Mansfield, O., April 23.—Pat Crowe, who was the kidnapper of Eddie Cudahy and was later an evangelist, was held up and robbed here. Crowe filed complaint against John Burns, a paroled Ohio reformatory prisoner, who is held in $5,000 bond.

Steamer Makes First Trip.

Port Benton, Mont., April 23.—The Baby Rose, the only steamboat which has operated on the upper Missouri in recent years, has arrived here. Charles Crepeau, the owner, was on board and Captain O'Rourke, an old time pilot was at the wheel.

SENATOR DIXON.

OVER DIXON'S AMENDMENT

Lively Fight on Between Opposing Interests.

Washington, April 23.—The fight over Senator Dixon's proposed long and short haul amendment to the pending interstate commerce bill is being fought out here between representatives of railroads and commercial interests of cities in the intermountain states.

Among the railroad representatives here are Vice President Hanna of the Northern Pacific, George R. Peck and Mr. Sewell of the Milwaukee, John M. Carroll, general counsel of the Burlington, and also representatives of the Santa Fe and other lines further south.

The cities represented by delegates of the chambers of commerce and other commercial organizations are Billings, Salt Lake and Spokane, and other delegations are said to be on the way.

Discussion of the railroad bill has gone over in the senate, pending the consideration of the river and harbor bill, but debate on it will be resumed next week. Meantime every senator is being interviewed by representatives of both sides.

BROAD SUGGESTION MADE BY BRANDEIS

Attorney for Glavis Makes Sensational Intimation.

Washington, April 23.—After attacking certain statements in Attorney General Wickersham's summary of the Glavis case during cross-examination of a witness before the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation, Attorney Brandeis, counsel for L. R. Glavis, threw out a broad suggestion that the document had been dated two months earlier than it had been prepared in order to make it appear that President Taft's letter of vindication to Secretary Ballinger had been based on alleged facts it contained.

At the White House and the department of justice it was stated that neither the president nor the attorney general would comment on Mr. Brandeis' intimations.

Comparatively little progress was made with the inquiry, despite the apparently growing impatience of the committee and the general desire of the members to bring the hearing to a close.

Statements Inaccurate.

E. C. Finney, assistant to the secretary of the interior, was under cross-examination during almost the entire day. He admitted, under questioning by Mr. Brandeis, that some of Mr. Wickersham's statements were inaccurate, but insisted that they were unimportant.

It was near the end of Finney's examination that Mr. Brandeis sprang his surprise. Mr. Wickersham, in his summary, says the suggestion that it was unlawful for Mr. Ballinger to have any professional relations with the Cunningham claimants because of his previous incumbency of the office of commissioner of the land office was based on Section 190 of the revised statutes and he cites authorities to show that Mr. Ballinger had not violated that law.

Mr. Brandeis asked the witness if he did not know that Glavis accused Ballinger of violating that law for the first time in a statement published in a November number of Collier's Weekly. Mr. Finney was not certain on that point, whereupon Mr. Brandeis demanded to know if it was a fact that the statement, which purports to have been made on Sept. 11, 1909, was not made until more than two months after that time. Mr. Finney responded that he did not know it to be a fact and did not believe it was.

Store Damaged by Fire.

Bird Island, Minn., April 23.—Weitzel Bros' general store was damaged by fire, the loss being estimated at $12,000, fully covered by insurance.

EUGENE V. DEBS IS COMING

The Great Orator and Humanitarian Will Speak in Gardner's Hall Wednesday, April 27.

Mr. Debs has been the unanimous choice of his party for the nomination for president, and there are few men in public life today that are not only respected but loved as he is. His opponents respect his honesty, sturdy character and intelligence, while his friends and they are in every community in the nation, love him for his humanity. As an orator he has no peer on the American platform, as there is but one Debs. Thousands have gone to his lecture to scoff, and remained to hear the humanity of Socialism as presented by Mr. Debs, and joined in the campaign for the emancipation of the sons and daughters of toil. He is lecturing under the management of the "Appeal to Reason", the most uncompromising and widely read socialist paper in America. Grafters of every description dread its searchlight, and crooked politicians from presidents down have been exposed so frequently that at this time the whole judicial machinery of President Taft's administration has been brought in to devise some means for its legal suppression. The Appeal is not seeking for sympathy, but subscribers, so it can tell more people of the rottenness of capitalism. It has exposed the record of Federal Judge Grosscup, until a resolution has been introduced into congress for his impeachment. Grosscup has picked his baggage and gone to Egypt. After the United States supreme court decided the kidnapping of Mayor, Haywood and Pettibone by Idaho officials was legal, the Appeal management offered a reward for the kidnapping and turning over to the officials of Kentucky, the republican governor Taylor, who was under indictment for complicity in the murder of the democratic governor Goebel, and for whom that state was offering $20,000 reward. The mailing of this reward by the Appeal was considered a violation of the civil law, and the government found a dummy complainant it never produced, but in the mixup Editor Warren of the Appeal received a six months sentence and a fine of $1,500. An appeal has been taken and the case will be heard by the United States court of Appeals, on May 9 at St. Paul, Minn.

Mr. Debs will discuss features of this case as it has special bearing on the demand of President Taft for an increase in rates on second class mail matter.

Tickets for the Debs lecture are sold for 25 cents for general admission and 35 cents for reserved seats. With each ticket will go a coupon for forty weeks to the Appeal to Reason. Gardner's hall Wednesday evening, April 27, at 8 P. M.

Goes to Ashland, Oregon

B. W. Talcott, for several years news gatherer on the Daily Dispatch, left this noon for Minneapolis, where he will meet Mrs. Talcott who has been visiting in Iowa, and from there they will go to Ashland, Oregon, where they will make their future home. Mr. Talcott having employment on a newspaper there. The change to the west is made on account of Mrs. Talcott's health, who was too delicate to stand the severe winters of Minnesota. Mr. Talcott has always "made good" as a news hustler on The Dispatch and other papers he has been connected with and he no doubt will do so in his new field of endeavor.

FIRST WOMAN CHOSEN

Sister of Mrs. Alex Rose is First Woman to Hold Important Scottish Positions

The Glasgow (Scotland) News, of recent date has the following to say of Mrs. Elizabeth Gordon Ross, who is a sister of Mrs. Alex Rose, of Klondyke:

"Mrs. Elizabeth Gordon Ross, who begins her new duties at the Labour Exchange today, is the first woman to be supervising clerk of the Labour Exchange in Scotland, as, curiously enough, she was the first selected to fill the position of corporation health visitor, which she has just resigned, taking with her regrets of her colleagues and of the Association for the Prevention of Infantile Mortality. Mrs. Ross has had a long training in social work, and has for many years taken a keen interest in the charitable efforts, especially on the South-side of the river, where she has been associated with the Gorbals Help Association and other work. She is thoroughly conversant with the social conditions and the work of women in the poorest districts of the city, having come very intimately among them, especially during the two years since her appointment as health visitor.

"For some time she was organizing lady secretary of the General Nursing Association, Scotia Street, a society in which she is still interested. Under the auspices of the Christian Social Union she, later, acted as secretary to the Victoria Club. Soon afterwards she was appointed Probationary Officer under the Sheriff—another first appointment—but almost simultaneously, and before she could take up her duties, she found herself the successful candidate for the office of Corporation Health Visitor, to which she was appointed in April, 1908. Keenly interested in work among the mothers and the babies, Mrs. Ross will remain on the executive of the Infantile Mortality Association. She is also a member of the Civil League as Supervisor for Scotland, and of the women's branch of the Labour Exchange. She will be occupied with the labour conditions as they affect women through out the country, and with the exchange and employment of women workers all over Scotland."

S. S. INSTITUTE A SUCCESS

While Attendance Was Not Unusually Large There Was Good Interest Manifested

DISCUSSED ADULT BIBLE CLASS

A. M. Locker, State Secretary of the Sunday School Union Was in Charge

The institute of Sunday school workers, which was held in the First Congregational church Friday afternoon and evening was a decided success. A. M. Locker, of St. Paul, the secretary of the Minnesota Sunday School union, was present and took charge of the institute which was conducted along round table lines, much of the time being devoted to informal discussions of various phases of the work. Mr. Locker spoke in the evening on the subject of Adult Bible classes and the addresses was followed by general discussion.

Mr. Locker said in part: "It is possible for every Sunday school to secure the church members as members of the Sunday school. The most important step is to plan to do it and it can easily be done. Every Sunday school should have an alphabetical list of its membership. A committee consisting of pastor and superintendent should carefully make a list of all church members not in Sunday school. These should be grouped and assigned to appropriate classes in the school. The teacher and class receiving their lists of members should secure them as active members of their class, or if unable to attend enroll them as associate members if they are willing to study the Bible one half hour each week. These associate members would be organized as a class home department.

"Every member of the church will be willing to be identified in this way with the Sunday school. There are large numbers of good Christian people in every community who, by force of circumstances, cannot attend the regular sessions of the school, but who will be willing to co-operate in this way and lend their influence on the side of the Sunday school."

"Every child born into this world belongs in the Kingdom of God. It is the business of the church to keep it there. Every Sunday school should have at least three purposes: 1.—Keep all the children in the Kingdom by proper instruction, training and environment. 2.—Through personal Christian work win every member of the school to Christ, who is not already a Christian. 3.—Meet the spiritual needs of all those who are in the Kingdom at every stage of their development from the cradle to the grave."

The inclemency of the weather kept some of those interested in the work away, but those who braved the disagreeable wind were thoroughly in earnest and the meetings were very enthusiastic.

UNION PICNIC

First Union Picnic of the Season at the Radisson Demonstration Monday Night

The first union picnic of the season will be held at the Radisson demonstration in the Ransford block Monday evening when every union man in Brainerd and the ladies of the Label League will be the guests of the Hays-Weaver Milling Co. Each lady and gentleman is requested to bring a drinking cup, but Mr. Hays says the drinks (coffee) are on the company. There was a good crowd out yesterday to the demonstration despite the bad weather.

PROVIDE A REST ROOM

O'Brien Mercantile Co. Adds This Improvement to Store

The O'Brien Mercantile Co. has added an innovation to its large store by providing a rest room which will occupy the gallery, 18x24, at the rear of the shoe department. The rest room, reached by a handsome flight of stairs, will be nicely carpeted and will be furnished with lounges, chairs and desks. A cloakroom will also be part of the furnishings.

Many a customer, tired from a country drive or waiting for a husband or friend to transact business in another part of the city, will be glad of the opportunity to sit in a quiet room and rest.

WINTER NESTLES IN THE LAP OF SPRING

A Stiff Breeze From Medicine Hat Hits The High Places In Town

SNOW FLURRIES AND WIND

Same Conditions Prevail Along the M. & I. and up to Duluth

A fierce wind, raising clouds of dust and accompanied by snow flurries struck town last night. The night policemen and yard men report the cold was felt more by them than at any period in winter. The little fountain near the depot was caught in the cold snap and quit in disgust, its spray freezing in big chunks on the green lawn.

The man wearing gauze underwear wished he hadn't switched so soon, and there was a scramble for overcoats and caps this morning. The man who had removed his coal stove and storm windows wished he had them back again. Coal bins that are empty are being filled today.

The Brainerd baseball team is playing Aitkin today. It is hoped the game will be completed without frost bites or fatalities. Every day wants to wear the catcher's mitt. It is said the billiard balls froze on the pool tables in many a pool room.

It is reported that Little Tamarack river froze over, as well as a lake near Wright station. Several picnics scheduled for next week may have to be postponed if this wintry weather continues.

The losses sustained in garden truck in S. E. Brainerd will be high. Fruit is damaged and lilac buds will be so discouraged that they will make no appearance this season. It is hoped the green, succulent onion will be strong enough to pull through.

ALLEGED BANDIT CAPTURED

Yankton, S. D., April 23.—A lively man hunt is being conducted here by a sheriff and deputies from Kaylor, who followed closely on the heels of the bank robbers who attempted to rob the Kaylor bank. A man was found here, but dodged into the railroad yards and eluded the officers for a time. He was finally captured, and had drills in his possession and his hat had been perforated by bullets.

They watch the kidneys and cure them when they are sick. P. M. Bislar, 412 S. Twelfth St., Brainerd, Minn., says: "I suffered from attacks of kidney trouble for some years. There was a lameness across the small of my back, which developed into a constant, dull ache and when the attacks were at their height, the kidney secretions became irregular in passage and deposited sediment. This was sufficient proof that my kidneys were disordered and when I heard Doan's Kidney Pills so highly recommended, I procured a box from a local druggist. A local physician said that I could use nothing better. They entirely cured me and my experience has proven them to be a very effective remedy."

Cherub Devine
By
SEWELL FORD
Copyright, 1909, by Mitchell Kennerley

"Then," exclaimed the countess, "you are not only a wicked man, but you are deceitful, cruel! I despise you! You—you are!"

Just what else he was the astonished Cherub was never to know, for at that point the denunciation was interrupted. The threatening flood submerged the brown eyes, and the countess, sinking down on the bottom stair, leaned against the carved newel post and sobbed tempestuously into the ample sleeve of the silk coat.

"Oh, say, now!" he protested. "See here, won't you? I didn't mean it. I take it all back, honest, I do. Come, now; let's talk it over. Oh, stop it! Do stop it!"

To the Cherub's urgent entreaties she paid not the slightest heed. She grasped the suit case and marched past him with as much dignity as it was possible to assume with a heavy weight dragging down one arm. At the door she made a determined attack on the bolts. Stupidly the Cherub watched her as she tugged away vainly.

"You had better wait until morning, hadn't you?" he suggested.

To this she made no reply, but shoved and pulled at the stubborn bolts until she was forced to give up. Then, just as he had thought her beaten, she went promptly to one of the French windows in a front room, turned the catch and stepped out on the veranda. Mr. Devine followed.

"I do not wish for your company, Mr. Devine."

"I suppose you don't, but I'm going just the same. I'll get my coat and hat."

As he ran back into the hall he heard the countess leave the veranda. Snatching up an opera hat and a raincoat, he hurried out through the window after her. She was easily overtaken, for the suit case acted as a brake.

"You'd better let me carry your bag," he said as he overtook her, but the offer was ignored, and the repulsed Cherub fell back a pace. Thus they started down the narrow gravelled path which wound a leisurely course in and out among the shrubbery toward the main road.

"See here," he said sternly as he stepped forward beside her; "you must let me take that bag."

"I shall not! I don't need your!"

she began bravely enough, but the Cherub had already lifted it from her numbed fingers.
"I know you don't," he said, "but I've got the bag."

A low grumble of distant thunder caused the countess to slacken her pace.

"There!" he exclaimed reproachfully. "It's going to rain, you see. Did you hear that?"

"Yes, I heard."

"But where are you going?"

The countess stopped abruptly and turned to say: "I think I told you, Mr. Devine; that I did not care to discuss my plans with you at all. Will you give me my bag?"

"No," said the Cherub. "I shall lug it myself, and I shall follow you until I see you safe somewhere."

With a gesture of impatience the countess resumed her way.

A brisk breeze sprang up somewhere the treetops began to rock and sway like drunken men. Several sharp crashes of thunder came in quick succession, and the bare highway emerged for an instant from indistinct gloom as the lightning revealed every detail.

Then there came a hush. Big drops of rain fell with menacing impact on the crown of the Cherub's opera hat.

"There! I told you it was going to rain," he announced. "Hold on, now; I'm going to put this coat on you."

The countess hesitated. He had dropped the bag and was holding up the coat by the collar. Another and more vivid flash than any which had preceded it revealed him with photographic distinctness. She could not help noting that he looked very well in evening dress. He did not seem so much inclined to stoutness as in a business suit.

"No; you need the coat yourself. You'll be wet through in a moment. The big drops struck through her thin silk sleeves coldly on her arms."

Then she allowed him to help her into the raincoat.

"Come on," he said, picking up the bag and starting ahead. The rain was now drumming a roaring tattoo on the crown of his hat.

"You must take my arm or you'll fall," ordered the Cherub. Meekly she obeyed, and they went plunging and sliding through the storm.

"Oh, you're being drenched!" said the countess. Apparently he did not hear. "You are wet through, aren't you?" she shouted in his ear.

"Not quite," he answered calmly.

There ensued a period during which they stumbled and slid along in silence. At last they discovered several houses near the road.

"We're getting into the village," announced the Cherub. "Isn't that where we want to go?"

"Yes," said the countess. "I suppose so."

"But where? Whereabouts in the village?"

"The railroad station."

"The railroad station?" The Cherub echoed this as if he had never heard the words before. "What do you want to go there for?"

"Because I am going away," said the countess wearily. "I'm going away."

Five minutes later, when they reached the station, he saw with joy that it was one of those low, wide-roofed affairs, under whose eaves they could at least find shelter from the pelting rain.

The station was dark, and all the doors were locked, of course, but there was a baggage truck. He dropped the suit case with a sigh of relief and gently helped the countess to a seat on the baggage truck.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

Mrs. Giles, Mack Tomlinson and wife, went to Pine River to visit Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Green. Mrs. Green's birthday will be celebrated by a party in her honor given tomorrow.

Adolph and Herman Peterson, of Deerwood, were in our city on business and intend to return to their home on the morning freight, which Herman says always leaves right on the dot.

The funeral of the late Mrs. L. J. Erickson was held yesterday from the Swedish Baptist church. The Royal Neighbors attended in a body, as well as the employees of the N. P. cab shops.

E. E. McCrea, supervisor of the census of this district will arrive in the city tomorrow. He wishes to see all the enumerators in his district Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the Ransford.

Halvor Hogan, of Mohall, N. D., who was visiting friends in Brainerd, left yesterday noon for a three month's visit in Trondhjem, Norway. Mr. Hogan was formerly an old resident of Brainerd.

Mrs. M. J. Reilly left on this morning's train for a visit with her daughter, Miss Vivian Reilly, who is attending the university. While at St. Paul she will attend tonight's performance of grand opera.

J. F. Huttunen, of Duluth, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. I. Ritari, 1123 East Norwood street, intends to start a large boarding house if he can get the desired location. He wants a house with at least 20 rooms.

Joseph T. Schumperlin, formerly of St. Cloud, arrived in the city Thursday night to accept a position as undertaker with D. M. Clark & Co. Mr. Schumperlin comes highly recommended, and will undoubtedly do well.

J. A. L. Walman, of the Walman Optical Co., of Little Falls, was in the city yesterday to make arrangements for a regular monthly visit to this city, fitting glasses. He will make his first visit here about May 13 and 14th.

A. M. Locker, State Sunday School secretary of St. Paul, and C. Bruhn, president of the Crow Wing county Sunday school association will leave for Pequot this afternoon to hold an institute at that place and also to organize a district.

The Pioneer Press, of St. Paul, remarks about the large audience at grand opera and mentions names to show how many northwestern cities are represented. Our Brainerd delegation is mentioned quite frequently in various columns.

Judge McClenahan returned today from Grand Rapids, where he had been holding court. Judge Wright will go to Grand Rapids next week to finish that term while Judge McClenahan will go to Walker Tuesday to open a regular term of court there.

F. M. Koop has purchased of Geo. Wilmott the five acre tract just south of the city formerly owned by Harry Hagadorn. The land is said to be underlaid by iron, in addition to which it will undoubtedly be valuable as residence lots in the near future.

J. C. Green, one of the state game wardens was in town today and went to Duluth on the afternoon train. He had been at Glenwood where he planted 225 quarts of wall-eyed pike or pike perch spawn. He stated to the writer he was going after another consignment.

Engineer Geo. E. Johnson, formerly of Brainerd, but recently of Ellensburg, Wash., has moved to White Swan, Wash., and opened a livery stable. Mrs. Johnson was formerly Miss Mary Whitford, of Motley, and well known to many of our readers. —Staples World.

W. N. Holbrook, who has been up northwest of Aitkin with his medicine wagon, left his team in Aitkin last night and came home on the freight. He says that he suffered as much with cold yesterday as any day last winter and decided to lay up till better weather.

John P. Goedderz, a brother of the late John Goedderz, arrived from Charles City, Iowa, to attend the funeral today. This is his first visit in Brainerd. The last time he saw his deceased brother was when John left Wisconsin 25 years ago and removed to Two Rivers, as the town was then called.

The Brainerd baseball team left on this morning's train for Aitkin, where they play Aitkin this afternoon. They were accompanied by a bunch of rooters numbering 15 or 20. Prof. Cobb, superintendent of schools, went with the boys. The center fielder may have a hard time catching flies in a snow storm.

George Beers came in on the early morning freight and thought he had time to get a breakfast. When his meal was half finished the freight tooted, his car load of horses billed for Bozeman, Mont., went sailing by and although Mr. Beers waved a doughnut at the engineer of the fast freight, he was left in Brainerd. His car is a valuable shipment of horses and brood mares and require care and attention.

George Abbott has removed to his new location 620 Laurel street. His quarters here give him about ten

Why Have an Overheated Kitchen in Summer?

When the sultry days come and the coal range makes the kitchen almost unbearable and cooking a dreaded task, put out the range fire and try the newest method of cooking in hot weather—use a

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

What a contrast! The kitchen no longer is stifling hot, the work is now done with comfort, and the housewife is not worn out with the heat.

She saves her strength, keeps her health and is better able to enjoy the summer.

The New Perfection does everything that any other stove can do—all the family cooking, baking, washing and ironing. No smoke, no dust, no odor. Heat is applied directly and not wasted. A turn, and the flame is out.

The New Perfection stove has a Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping plates and food hot, drop shelves for the coffee pot or saucepans, and nicked towel racks.

It has long turquoise-blue enamel chimneys. The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove very attractive and invites cleanliness. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

$3.50 RECIPE CURES WEAK KIDNEYS, FREE

Relieves Urinary and Kidney Troubles, Backache, Straining, Swelling, Etc.

Stops Pain in the Bladder, Kidneys and the Back Also

Wouldn't it be nice within a week or so to begin to say goodbye forever to the scalding, dribbling, straining, or too frequent passage of urine; the forehead and the back-of-the-head aches; the pitting and pains in the back; the growing muscle weakness; spots before the eyes; yellow skin; sluggish bowels; swollen eyelids or ankles; leg cramps; unnatural short breath; sleeplessness and the despondency?

I have a recipe for these troubles that you can depend on, and if you want to make a Quick Recovery, you ought to write and get a copy of it. Many a doctor would charge you $3.50 just for writing this prescription, but I have it and will be glad to send it to you entirely free. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. B. Robinson, K33 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send it by return mail in a plain envelope. As you will see when you get it, this recipe contains only pure, harmless remedies, but it has great healing and pain-conquering power.

It will quickly show its power once you use it, so I think you had better see what it is without delay. I will send you a copy Free—you can use it
